Master of Science in Health Promotion (Health Education)

Positions Available: Immediately

Posting Date: 02/25/2014

End Date: Open until filled

Maryland University of Integrative Health (formerly Tai Sophia Institute) is the leading academic institution for integrative health in the nation. For nearly 40 years, MUIH has educated and informed leaders in health and wellness through transformative and relationship-centered programs that draw from contemporary science and traditional wisdom. MUIH offers graduate degrees and certificates in a wide range of wellness fields, as well as programs for professional and personal development. MUIH's on-site Natural Care Center offers compassionate and affordable healthcare from student interns and professional practitioners.

Maryland University of Integrative Health is seeking part-time adjunct faculty members for its Master of Science in Health Promotion (area of concentration in Health Education). Courses to be filled (see attached list) address the competencies and sub-competencies that constitute the seven areas of responsibility for health education specialists as described by the National Commission for Health Education Credentialing (NCHEC). Ideal applicants will have online teaching experience and an interest in teaching in an online environment.

Responsibilities/Duties

Responsibilities/duties include, but are not limited to:

- Online course development, if applicable (supplemental compensation offered)
- Teaching the assigned online course(s) and assuming all responsibilities associated with teaching
- Assessing student learning outcomes
- Grading and reviewing assignments
- Monitoring and posting student progress and grades
- Preparing and posting student materials
- Collaborating with the Academic Director
- Participating in faculty meetings
- Being available for individual coaching/advising of students as required
- Working with teaching Assistants, if applicable, for online course administration
- Completing required training in online course delivery and navigation
- Performing other duties as assigned

NOTE: The above responsibilities and duties can be performed via multiple modalities (e.g., online, phone, Skype, teleconference, in person)
