Instructor (Full-time) Nutrition and Integrative Health

Position Available: August 2013

Post Date: 06/19/13

End Date: Open Until Filled

For best consideration apply by July 15, 2013

Maryland University of Integrative Health (formerly Tai Sophia Institute) is the leading academic institution for integrative health in the nation. For nearly 40 years, MUIH has educated and informed leaders in health and wellness through transformative and relationship-centered programs that draw from contemporary science and traditional wisdom. MUIH offers graduate degrees and certificates in a wide range of wellness fields, as well as programs for professional and personal development. MUIH's on-site Natural Care Center offers compassionate and affordable healthcare from student interns and professional practitioners.

Maryland University of Integrative Health is seeking a knowledgeable and dedicated individual to serve as an instructor in human nutrition and integrative health-related courses, as well as in courses on disease prevention, research methods, and/or introductory food science. Our Nutrition and Integrative Health programs offer groundbreaking instruction on whole-food nutrition and whole-person perspectives within a natural health paradigm. Adjunct faculty contribute broad university service through student advising, committee work, and scholarship and professional development.

This full-time position is required to apply for rank under MUIH's Appointment, Rank, and Promotion policy within two ranking cycles.

Responsibilities/Duties

Responsibilities/duties include, but are not limited to:

- Developing and teaching clinical and online courses in the Masters and Post-Masters Certificate curriculum, including creating syllabi, lesson plans, and assessments appropriate for graduate level coursework (i.e., incorporating critical thinking and information literacy), integrating computing, academic technologies, and the university learning management system into the subject material
- Assessing student learning outcomes, including grading and reviewing assignments
- Monitoring student progress and grades
- Preparing and duplicating student materials
- Participating in faculty meetings as well as academic and university committees
- Being available for individual coaching/advising of students as required
- Participating in program related events as appropriate
- Engaging in collaborative relationships to promote positive community relations on behalf of MUIH and Nutrition and Integrative Health programs
- Demonstrating professional knowledge, attitudes, skills, and standards of conduct
- Performing other duties as assigned
