City: Washington

State: District of Columbia

Details:

SEEKING OUR 4TH FULL-TIME, SALARIED ACUPUNCTURIST

We are a top-reviewed Chinese Medicine clinic in downtown Washington DC, and we're looking for our fourth acupuncturist following yet another strong period of growth. You would be joining a truly collaborative group practice, sharing patients and clinical insights with fellow members of the team. The team includes three other full-time acupuncturists and two admin staff members. You'd be part of a truly unique clinical model for acupuncture (this is not a community-style clinic). Desired start date: ASAP.

Recent grads are encouraged to apply – this is an excellent opportunity to gain a lot of clinical experience with plenty of support.

Highlights of the position below. For more details, salary and benefits and how to apply, please visit our website here: <https://www.dc-acupuncture.com/employment-opportunity-full-time-acupuncturist>

HIGHLIGHTS of the position:

- + Evolved office culture: heart, transparency, professionalism, kindness and open communication are all explicit values upon which we base our management style.
- + Support of fellow practitioners in a non-competitive context: you will be collaborating, growing and sharing clinical insights with a team of fellow Chinese Medicine practitioners. All positions are salaried rather than commission-based, so there is absolutely no sense of competing for clients.
- + Focus on your patients and therapeutic outcomes: full-time admin staff covers office management, marketing, scheduling patients, insurance billing and collection of payment.
- + Work-life balance: 20 days of PTO and 4.5-day work weeks (the half-day is for chart noting and worked from home)
- + $40K/year starting salary (equivalent to approx $85k in private practice gross revenue - see full job description - link above - for details on how we calculated this) plus benefits.
- + Lovely work environment: the clinic space is serene, aesthetically pleasing and often described by our patients as a "sanctuary". It is located right in Dupont Circle, one of downtown DC's most popular neighborhoods.
- + Self-care facilitation: staff members come in for regular treatments from their fellow team members at no cost.
- + Quickly gain a LOT of clinical experience and help a LOT of people

+ Hone the art form of helping clients identify the root causes of their health issues, and address those causes through lifestyle and personal transformation

+ Discover your clinical and healing gifts, and put them into practice.
