Would you like an orientation to APA?
APA Exposed has several excellent tutorial modules for citation and reference information.

The APA Publication Manual is the authoritative book source. It is available in the Library Reserve Section and can be checked out for one week. An online source that has a small portion of the information found in the book is the APA Style Home Page.

Do you have a question about how to format a specific resource?
The APA Formatting and Style Guide – The OWL (Online Writing Lab) is a good source which provides examples for a wide variety of resources.
